Civil War Records, Delaware County, 1861-1890

8 boxes, 3.8 cu. ft.

History

Shortly after the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861, the Union armies found themselves in need of recruits to wage a long-term war. As incentive to join the military, counties often offered bounties and Delaware County was no different. Many soldiers from Delaware County traveled to Richmond or Indianapolis to enlist and join one of the Hoosier regiments. The Union soldiers from Delaware County fought in battles across the country, including Gettysburg, Antietam, Second Bull Run and numerous others. Following the war, Delaware County kept records of its Civil War veterans with enrollments in 1886 and 1890.

Scope and Content

The bulk of this collection deals with bounties, as their administration was delegated to Delaware County. Among the bounty records are applications, certificates, checks, transfers and confirmations. Also among the documents are mustering lists and other documents produced by the regiments. The last four boxes of this collection are dedicated to records of Veterans Enrollment in 1866 and 1890. These folders are organized by Regiment, then by Blacks and then by states soldiers served in prior to relocating to Delaware County. Documents in this collection were created between the years 1861 and 1906, with an invitation to an encampment in Minneapolis being the most recent.
