

UNDERGRADUATE FUNDING

Ball State is required to certify that an international student has the financial ability to attend their program of study for one academic year before we may issue student visa documents.

International students that do not receive university support may submit a personal bank statement or sponsor's bank statement as documentation to fulfill this requirement.

Please ensure that you provide proof of funds for the correct degree level, as tuition for undergraduate, graduate, and Intensive English all differ. If you plan to bring your spouse or dependent(s), you must add the additional cost to your total.
