Music for Gigs

For many students their first paid performances are “gigs” for holidays and special occasions. Freelancing brings the challenge of finding appropriate sheet music at the last minute, or accommodating the wishes of a Bridezilla.

Standard repertoire will often fit the bill, but lacking experience, our students may not know which pieces will “work” for these occasions.

The Music Collection has sheet music to help make these first professional experiences successful. Some examples:

December Holidays
Christmas Solos for All Ages
M 2110 .C57 2001

Definitive Christmas Collection
M 2110 .D44 2004

Professional Singer’s Christmas Fake Book
M 2110 .P764 1998

Hanukkah Music for Brass Quintet
M 558 .H36 1985

Weddings
Bride’s Guide to Wedding Music (P/V/G)
M 1977 .W4 B75 2005

Canadian Brass Wedding Essentials (Brass ensemble)
M 558 .W44 2003

Jewish Wedding Music (String Quartet)
M 453 .J49 2000

Oxford Book of Wedding Music (Organ)
M 6 .O9 1991

Wedding: The Best of Contemporary Christian Music (Voice)

Wedding & Love Fake Book

Wedding Album (Brass Quintet)
M 558 .W43 1999

Chamber Music Finder

This tool allows you to search CardCat without knowing the official subject or uniform title. For standard instrumentations (e.g. string quartet), click the box for that grouping. For other configurations, indicate the number of each instrument. You can add a keyword such as “wedding” to the search as well.

University Libraries
A destination for research, learning, and friends

Spring Semester seems to be flying by! The library has been a hub of activity, including the well received lobby performance by the Concert Choir. Despite this year’s financial challenges, the Music Collection has received funds for special acquisitions (see below and page 4). I have tried to focus on practical material while maintaining the scholarly excellence of the collections. There has been no change to subscriptions for scholarly scores, RILM, New Grove online, Naxos Music Library, and journals. I continue to add to the web subject guide for music (http://bsu.libguides.com/music) and the Music Collection blog (http://bsumc.blogspot.com/). As always, if you have suggestions or comments feel free to contact me: aledmonds@bsu.edu or 285-5065.

New Resources for Vocalists

Singers! Do you need help with diction? The Music Collection has added some diction aids to help with standard repertoire. These resources give word-by-word translations and IPA pronunciation for each lied, aria or song.

The Pronunciation Guide and Diction Coach series also have accompanying CDs. These have a diction coach speaking the poetic text as it should be sung, and a second reading that leaves time after each line for the singer to repeat the text.

Recent additions also include seven additional volumes in the opera libretto series by Nico Castel. This series has complete librettos for important operas with word-by-word translation and IPA pronunciation. The call numbers vary, but they can be found at the beginning of the Music Collection Reference Shelves.

Castel series:

Handel Opera Libretti
Italian/French Belcanto (3 vols.)

Drum Corps International DVDs

The Library has acquired DVDs of recent (2009) and historical (1974+) performances of Drum Corps International championship competitions. There are 24 items in CardCat, representing over 80 individual DVDs.

To find the call numbers, search “Drum Corps International” as a keyword search in CardCat.

DVDs are in the Educational Resources section on the Lower Level. They may be borrowed for four days.

The Libraries’ collections have been broadened by substantial donations of sheet music. Former Director of the School of Music, Dr. Peter A. McAllister, donated over 400 items for guitar, including solo music, duets, and etudes.

The estate of Louise DeBord donated over 1,000 pieces of sheet music representing popular music from the first half of the twentieth century to Archives and Special Collections. Over 200 have been added to CardCat. Contact the Archives and Special Collections area for more information:
