Greetings Musicians

“Spring Semester” has been something of a misnomer this year, but the flowers will be out sooner than we realize. The Music Collection continues to serve the needs of faculty, staff, and students, though more of you have called or e-mailed rather than come in person. We don’t mind! We are here for you whether you’re snowed in or across the continent for a conference.

— Amy Edmonds

Did you know...?

The Bestseller Collection on the main floor of Bracken Library often has biographies and autobiographies of musicians. This semester you can find biographies & autobiographies of Willie Nelson, Cee Lo Green, Steven Tyler, Jay-Z, Neil Young, Bruce Springsteen, Rod Stewart and Ozzy Osbourne. And hot off the press, Song of Spiderman: The Inside Story of the Most Controversial Musical in Broadway History.

New on Naxos

RCA Records is the latest major label to sign with Naxos for online streaming. Performers include Heifetz, Galway, Rubinstein, The Chicago Symphony, The St. Louis Symphony, and the Guarneri Quartet. For something different, try The Glory (????) of the Human Voice, sung by Florence Foster Jenkins, the New York socialite whose so-bad-they’re good recitals were de rigeur for the elite class in the 1950s.

NML on your mobile device is now even easier. You can use their app or just go to the website and log in.

Featured CDs

- The Orchid Ensemble. HeartlandCompact Disc 21884
- The Orchid Ensemble consists of Lan Tung, (left) erhu, Mei Han (center), zheng, and Jonathan Bernard (right), on marimba and percussion. Together they blend Chinese, Javanese and European traditions in original compositions and arrangements of Chinese classics.

Featured DVDs

- Ghetto Theresienstadt: Deception and RealityDVD Video 11378
- Refuge in MusicDVD Video 11407
- Shanghai StoryDVD Video 11340
- Give me the BanjoDVD Video 11447

Forte. By Forte

- Compact Disc 21900
- Three classically-trained tenors formed a group to compete on last season’s America’s Got Talent television show. They made it to the finals and finished in fourth place. With arrangements reminiscent of crossover sensation Il Divo, this self-titled debut album promises to be the first of many that will introduce the operatic sound to more audiences.

John Somebody, by Scott Johnson (1982)

- Compact Disc 21948
- Tape loops in 1982 were actual tapes, and “sampling” meant cutting up pieces of tape. Scott Johnson’s John Somebody used short snippets of conversation, snipped into even shorter phonemes then fashioned into melodic motives. Electric guitars, percussion and winds flesh out the work’s movements. After the success of John Somebody, Scott Johnson was asked to supply the soundtrack for a movie based on Patty Hearst’s life as a captive of the Synbionese Liberation Army. The result plus some added tracks can be heard on Johnson’s album, Patty Hearst: Compact Disc 21949.

Give me the Banjo, by Scott Johnson

- Compact Disc 21949
- Narrated by Steve Martin, this video explores the history of the banjo from its African roots to the present day, with famous performers.

All This and World War II

- Was a dismal failure as a feature film. In the film, Beatles songs covered by other artists accompany images from World War II. The juxtaposition was just too absurd for audiences, but the soundtrack was a moderate success: Compact Disc 21921.
