Dear Mr. Sleeper:

This is in response to your letter of April 4, 1974, in which you requested information in obtaining tax exemption under section 501(c)(3) of the 1954 Internal Revenue Code.

As Ball State University is an instrumentality of the state of Indiana its income is exempt from Federal income tax under section 115 of the Code.

Therefore, contributions to Ball State University for exclusively public purposes are deductible by donors under section 170(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

However, if you desire to apply for exemption under section 501(c)(3) it will be necessary for you to submit a completed application on Form 1023, a copy of which is enclosed.

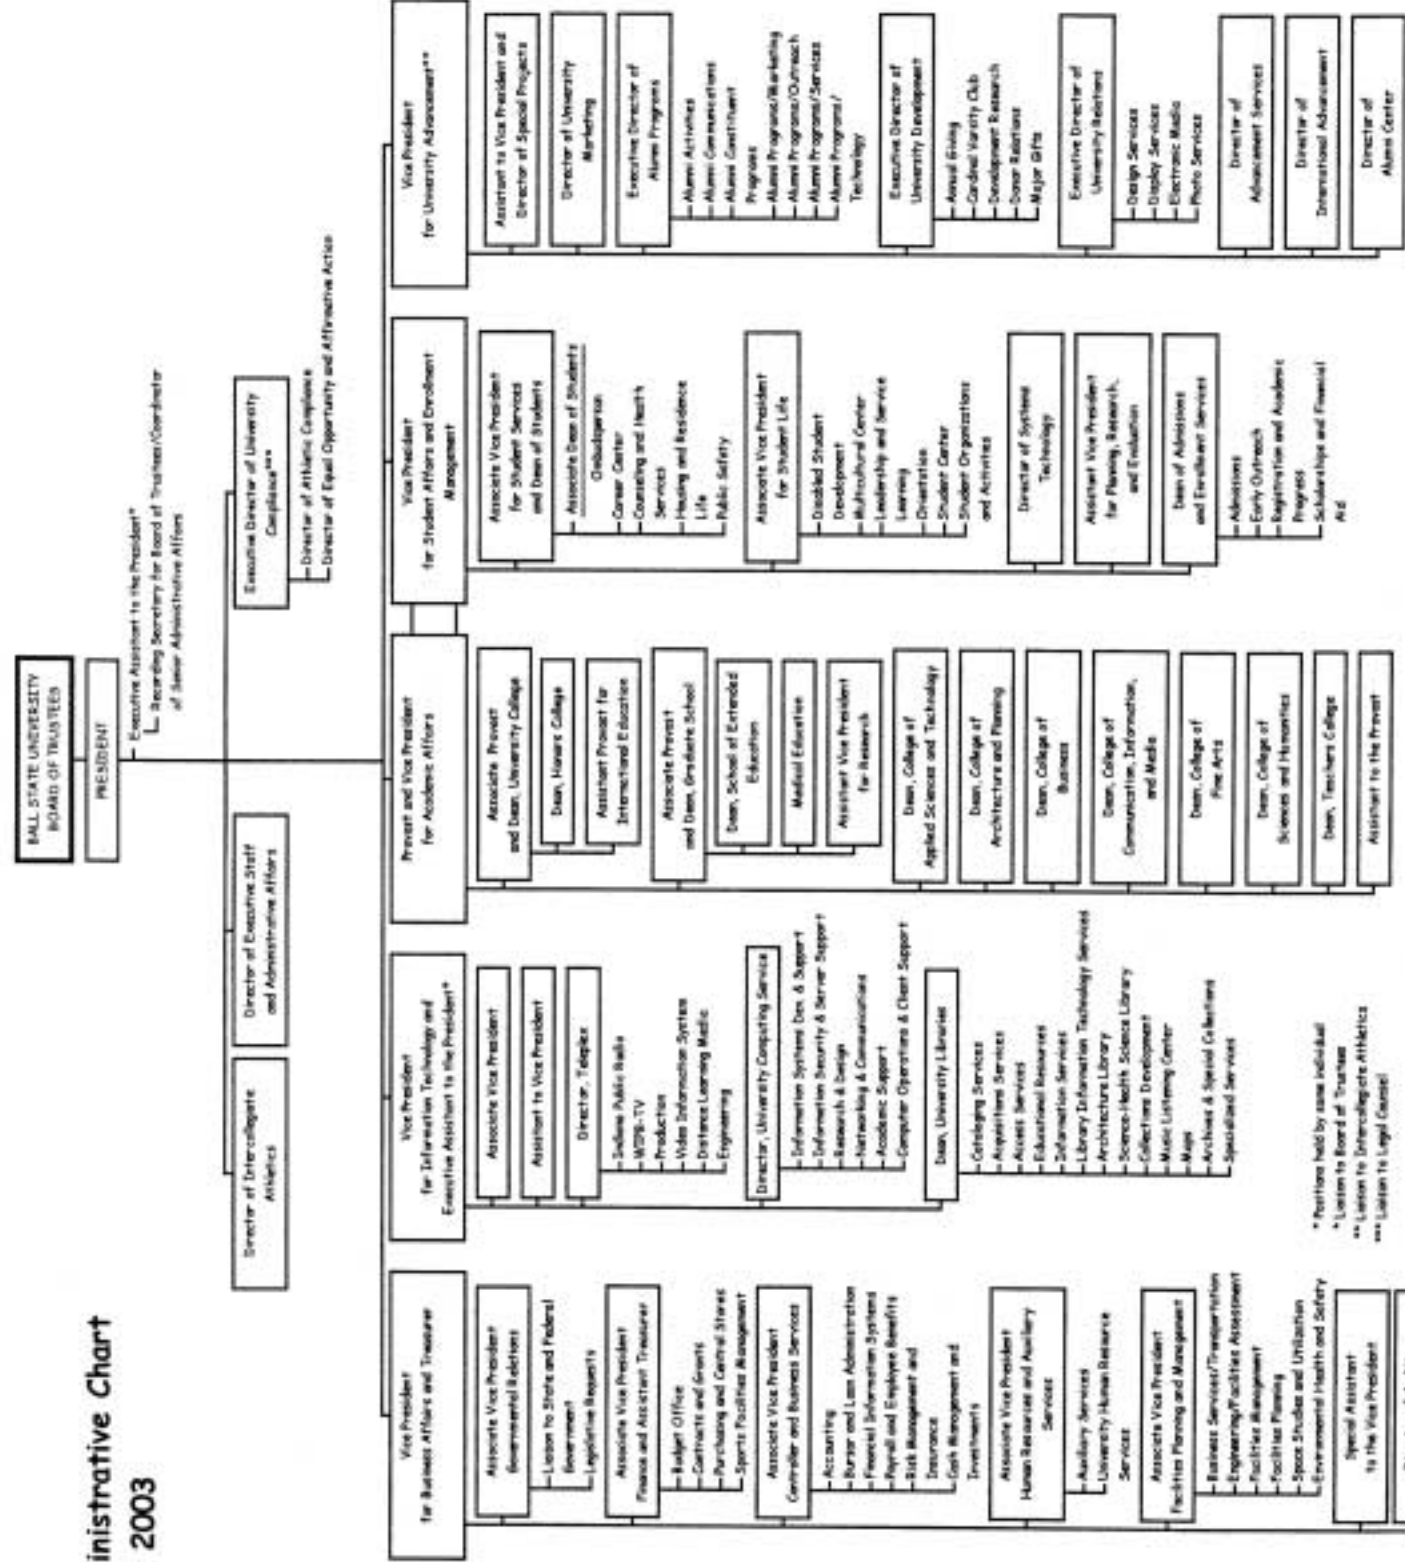

Very truly yours,

Administrative Chart
July 2003

Ball State University Governance System
Policy Formulation Flow Chart

MEANS BY WHICH SEPARATE SENATES COULD BE ESTABLISHED FOR FACULTY, PROFESSIONAL PERSONNEL, AND STUDENTS

Steps:

1. The Senate Governance Committee will convene a task force composed of representatives from the student body, professional personnel, and faculty to explore modifications to the governance system. The Governance Committee will oversee any process that may ensue.
2. The task force of faculty, students, and professional personnel will meet under the Governance Committee to explore modifications to the current Constitution and will present its findings to the Senate.
3. The task force may bring a selected alternative to the Senate for a first reading.
4. Second reading and debate.
  - 4.1. A formal vote of all three constituency groups would be held, and the results would be communicated to the Senate.
5. Vote of University Senate, simple majority needed to approve.
6. Vote of faculty as an amendment to the Constitution, requiring a two-thirds vote.

Vote on an amendment to the Constitution according to the policies and procedures in the Faculty and Professional Personnel Handbook in effect at the time of the vote.

7. To Board of Trustees for approval.

Accepted by University Senate 11/9/00
Amended by University Senate 12/7/00
Amended by University Senate 3/22/01

Notes for each step:

1. It is desirable for the Governance committee to allow each of the constituent groups (student, faculty, professional personnel) to meet and discuss issues surrounding the creation of new governance bodies. It may be desirable for each group to have input into appointing the task force.

Several members of the current committee have expressed concern that the Senate debate the need for governance modification prior to establishing the task force. The committee decided that a motion from the Senate floor would be needed to set the identified process into effect, and, at that time, some debate would ensue.

The Governance Committee would determine the size and specific composition of the task force.
2. The task force may develop modifications to the current Senate Constitution. It is desirable to present multiple alternatives to Senate.
3. This step is mandated under the current constitution. No debate ensues at this time.
4. As in step three, this step is prescribed under the current system.
  - 4.1. The current constitution requires a faculty vote on changes to the constitution, and requires a two-thirds vote. However, it doesn't make sense for the faculty to unilaterally ratify changes that would affect students and professional personnel; thus, their vote is necessary as well.
5. A simple majority seems reasonable here as higher consensus is needed in steps that follow.
6. None
7. The Trustees must approve of constitutional changes.
