in the green campus movement and;

Whereas: President Jo Ann Gora has provided substantial leadership and support in this effort during her decade as our president, but will be retiring June 30, 2014; and,

Whereas: The next president will have the advantage of continuing to steer and develop programs that grow from this legacy of commitment and international recognition accorded Ball State University in this arena.

Now therefore be it resolved that the Council on the Environment recommends to the Board of Trustees, Provost and Chair of the Search Committee that a key criterion for the selection of the next University President be her/his clear understanding of, and commitment to, the extension of this legacy at Ball State University.
