

Dallis Pike

Curriculum Vitae

Contact Information:

E-mail: dallis.pike@gmail.com

Home Address: Dallis Pike

2183 Seasons South Dr., Apt 207, Indianapolis, IN 46280

Cell Phone: (317) 501-0551

Education History:

August 2009-December 2017: Doctoral Candidate in Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Studies, Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana

May 2009: Master of Arts in Secondary Education, Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana.

December 2007: Graduated from Ball State University cum laude, Bachelor of Arts
Indiana Teacher's License: Language Arts.

Skills and Experiences:

Mentorship/Teaching

Educational Administration

Curriculum and Professional Development Educational Technology and Media

Mentorship/Teaching:

August 2015-Present: Assistant Director of Debate, Ball State University. Responsible for administration of the Ball State Debate Team's travel logistics, coaching and mentoring responsibilities with students, and teaching several sections of Debate and Argumentation courses.

August 2013-May 2015: Instructor of Educational Studies, Ball State University. Taught and developed curricula for Educational Foundations and Multicultural Education courses. Supervised students during their off-campus civic service.

Fall 2008-May 2013: Graduate Teaching Assistant in the department of Communications. Responsibilities include coaching the BSU Debate Team; teaching and evaluating students from the introduction to Public Speaking courses, and planning trips to debate tournaments; supervised students during off-campus tournament activities.

Fall 2007: Student teaching practicum at Hamilton Southeastern High School. Taught honors Sophomore English and Speech classes.

Dallis Pike (Page 2)

Fall 2005-2008: Participated in the organization of the Robert H. Faulkner Academy, Marion, Indiana. Duties included planning a budget of $1 million, writing content for school website, producing and co-writing scripts for several television commercials.

Curriculum and Professional Development:

Fall 2011-Spring 2013: Communication Studies 210 Course Evaluation Committee, Ball State University. Analyzed and revised course exams to align with goals identified previous years.

Fall 2011: Presented: How to bring the Art back to Writing: Teaching Writing without making it boring. Indiana Teachers of Writing Conference 2011, Indianapolis.

Fall 2010-Spring 2011: Chair of the Communication Studies 210 Course Evaluation Committee, Ball State University. Identified learning objectives for students and aligned goals with course materials and University Core Curriculum goals for the Communication Studies program.

Fall 2010 and Fall 2011: Presented How to Deal with a Difficult Class, Communication Studies 210 Professional Development Training Seminar

Media Development and Conference Presentations:

Spring 2018: Top Panel recipient in the Education division at Communication Education at Central States Communication Association 2018: Teaching in Trump's America

Spring 2017: Panel Chair for: How the Pedagogy and Teaching of Dialogue Creates Better Debate and Debaters for the Central States Communication Association conference in March 2017, Forensics and Argumentation division.

Summer 2015-Present: Co-Organizer and Co-Presenter, So You Want To Be A Teacher? An Introduction to the Foundations of Education Massively Open Online Course. The course runs every summer since 2015 as a Massively Open Online Course.

Fall 2010: Presented: Playing School: Understanding How the Growing Culture of Gamers Impacts Our Students and Our Classrooms, a con-current session at the 37th Annual National Middle School Association Conference.

Fall 2009: Presented Wikis: a Student Centered Collaborative Tool, a con-current session at the 36th annual National Middle School Association conference.

Dallis Pike (page 3)

Professional Awards

President's Award—National Educational Debate Association

Coaching Award—National Educational Debate Association

All-American Debate Award winner—National Educational Debate Association