PERFORMANCE EVALUATION FORM FOR NONEXEMPT STAFF PERSONNEL

Evaluation Period: March 1, 2012 to February 28, 2013

Definition of Performance

Performance evaluation is defined as the periodic and regular evaluation of an employee's ability to carry out assigned duties and responsibilities. A valuable talent management tool, a performance evaluation enables a supervisor to evaluate the individual's skills and knowledge in carrying out the responsibilities of the job, and allows the employee to see how he or she is achieving results as measured against the work standards set by the supervisor. The general benchmark should be that the employee's overall performance should be at a satisfactory level or greater, after a reasonable period of training and being employed in the position.

Rating Employee Performance

To assist you with the evaluation process, we have included an evaluation form that lists the employee's major job responsibilities, which are taken directly from the employee's existing position description. Changes that have occurred in the position description should be written on the evaluation form so the duties actually performed by the employee can be evaluated. The official position description on file in University Human Resource Services will be updated upon receipt of the attached form for minor changes. Major changes in job duties and responsibilities may result in a position audit.

Evaluation of General Factors

Rate the employee's performance using the 5 to 1 rating scale as defined in the "Rating Guide for Performance Measures." Use NA for any factors that are not applicable.

Evaluation of Job Duties and Responsibilities

While optional, on the left hand side of this section of the evaluation enter the percentage of time spent performing each job duty or responsibility listed, in order of relative importance. Completing the left side of the form does not affect the scoring of the evaluation; however it can be helpful to an employee by outlining his/her job duty priorities.

On the right hand side of the evaluation the supervisor must rate the employee's performance using the 5 to 1 rating scale as defined in the "Rating Guide for Performance Measures."

Scoring the Evaluation

Using the Excel template provided on the HR Website "Staff Performance Evaluation Scoring Worksheet " calculate the employee's performance evaluation score. Enter data for boxes highlighted in yellow.

1. Enter the score for each general factor rated. For NA ratings enter "0".
2. Enter the total number of general factors that were evaluated. Do not include factors that have an NA = 0 rating.
3. The spreadsheet will calculate the Total Score Average for General Factors.
4. Calculate the number of job duties listed on the evaluation that have the same score.
5. For each performance score rating enter the total number of job duties that received that score (5 to 1).
6. The spreadsheet will calculate the Total Score Average for Job Duties and Responsibilities and the Overall Total Performance Evaluation Score.
7. Print a copy of the worksheet and attach to the employee's performance evaluation.

Scoring Example

Refer to the HR Website for an example of how to use the Staff Performance Evaluation Scoring Worksheet.
