Season's Greetings from the Music Collection

Fall Semester, 2016, brought several service improvements, especially simplified printing, a new service in the SRCS (State-wide Remote Circulation Services) system, and planning for a Digital Scholarship Lab, which will open in the Spring Semester. We hope these improvements will be helpful to you.

We can arrange for individual, studio, or class presentations to bring you up to speed on our services and collections. Feel free to contact me for an individual or class appointment.

Digital Scholarship Lab

Ball State University is launching a Digital Scholarship Lab (DSL), a new unit designed to facilitate the production, dissemination, and preservation of digital scholarship. A joint undertaking between University Libraries/IT and Academic Affairs, the DSL will serve as a hub designed to connect BSU faculty with the expertise and resources necessary to support digital projects.

Digital scholarship encompasses research and creative work that uses of digital tools or evidence to advance knowledge. For further information, contact dsl@bsu.edu.

Printing Update

The University’s new Print Smart system gives Ball State students, faculty and staff more printing options. After sending a print job, simply go to any of the Print Smart printers on campus, log in, and print your document. Bracken Library has nine linked printers, and there are also printers in other campus buildings.

For more information check the Libraries’ FAQs: http://bsu.libguides.com/helpandFAQ/computers-printing

New Service: SRCS

Statewide Remote Circulation Services (SRCS) is a new way to borrow materials from another library in Indiana. Faculty, students, staff and emerita can view library holdings and place a request directly from the library of choice. Staff at the other library receive the request and send it via the same Interlibrary Loan service you already use. Pick up the item at the main circulation desk. It’s that easy!

Click on SRCS from the Libraries’ Databases page.

Videos in the Educational Technology & Resources Collection

Searching CardCat for Video:
Use “DVD” as a keyword, for example, DVD and jazz in Basic Search. The results will include standalone DVDs as well as those included with books, scores, and compact discs.

For specifically video releases, use Advanced Search and select DVD Videos as the Format, and Educational Technology as the Location.

Chamber Music Parts: Update

Recently, Music Collection staff examined the entire collection of chamber music sets of parts & scores, (M200s through M900s) and identified chamber music parts & scores that needed to be replaced or repaired. In addition, a generous donation of string chamber music sets has expanded the choices available for performance. Use the Chamber Music Finder to identify music for two to nine players. Use “part” or “parts” as a keyword to find performance editions.

Selected New Books from the General Collection:

- First-generation College Students, Ward, et. al. LC 4069.6 .W37 2012

Featured Book:

Huron proposes a revised set of voice leading rules for tonal music based on studies of both listener and performer perception in a variety of contexts.

Featured CDs

- Jake Shimabukuro: Travels. Compact Disc 22876
  Jake Shimabukuro is a virtuoso ukulele player who plays both traditional and rock music. A video of him playing “While my Guitar Gently Weeps” was one of the first viral videos on youtube. He has appeared on “Jake Shimabukuro: Life on Four Strings,” a documentary about his life, and on numerous radio and television programs. “Travels” is his most recent release and includes originals as well as adaptations of golden “oldies.”

- Classical & Contemporary Chinese Music for zheng. Mei Han and Red Chamber. Compact Disc 22926
  Mei Han is a master performer of the zheng, a Chinese instrument with a long history in traditional music that is now also a vehicle for contemporary composition. She also holds a Ph.D. in Ethnomusicology.

Ring Cycle Reissue: Solti & Vienna Philharmonic

Conductor Georg Solti’s famous studio recording of Wagner’s Der Ring des Nibelungen (Ring Cycle) has been remastered and reissued with extras: a CD-ROM of libretti and a 2-disc bonus: Deryck Cooke’s An Introduction to Der Ring des Nibelungen, explaining and demonstrating leitmotivs. This recording is noteworthy for the brass playing and the use of historically accurate instruments played by members of the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra. The original recordings came out from 1958-1965 and each won the Grand Prix du Disque for its respective year.

Vocalists include Birgit Nilsson, Christa Ludwig, Kirsten Flagstad, Joan Sutherland and Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau. Compact Disc 22603

Authentic Wagner tubas were used for this recording.
