Greetings, musicians!

This Spring we said good-bye to Kevin Blue, as he transferred to a day-time job behind the scenes in the Libraries. We welcome Jeremiah Smith as the new night supervisor. He has embraced the challenges of his new job and he is looking forward to meeting everyone. Logan Prather began work as the new night supervisor for Bracken Library. His responsibilities include supervising Jeremiah and the rest of the night crew. His academic background is in linguistics.

So You Want to Sing Jazz:
A Guide for Professionals, by Jan Shapiro MT 886 .S43 2016

So You Want to Sing Jazz is part of a series sponsored by the National Association of Teachers of Singing (NATS). Although aimed at professional voicist, the book takes little for granted. Shapiro and guest authors cover everything from healthy vocal technique to scat, song selection, improvisation, and working from a leadsheet with your jazz accompanist. Each chapter includes a bibliography, and although there is no accompanying CD, there are numerous references to audio and video excerpts that demonstrate key concepts.

The Lives of George Frideric Handel, by David Hunter ML 410 .H13 H86 2015

From his work with primary sources, Hunter has found that many of the previous biographers of Handel have misrepresented aspects of Handel’s career. For example, switching from opera to oratorio was not an attempt to appeal to middle-class audiences, as some authors have suggested.
His primary audience continued to be the London elite. This new biography places Handel’s life and career in the context of contemporary London as represented by archival documents, examining both culture and economic realities of the time.

Radicalism & Music: An Introduction to the Music Cultures of Al-Qa’ida, Racist Skinheads, Christian-Affiliated Radicals, and Eco-Animal Rights Militants By Jonathan Pieslak
ML 3916 .P54 2009

Music is part of every human culture, and including ideologically-motivated cultures. Pieslak finds common ground in the musics of the Westboro Baptist Church and al-Qa’ida alike, in their use of music to reinforce group identities in a context not usually examined musically. Pieslak also wrote Sound Targets, about the music of American soldiers in the Iraq War.

D’Angelo and the Vanguard “Black Messiah”
Compact Disc 22727

R&B artist D’Angelo is known for his athletic good looks and for his Fans would have to wait 15 years for his next masterpiece. Though there are many layers to the songs, the entire album was created in the studio with live performers and analog tape. Other “retro” techniques include tight vocal harmony, a small horn section, funky bass lines, and brief motivic patterns calling to each other. Some call this genre “retro-progressive” but everybody can call it interesting.
