Greetings Musicians

I hope you had a great interim break. We are very pleased to have Finale installed on nearby computers once again. Many students have been able to finish assignments and projects since we first installed Finale. Students who want to use a MIDI controller can check one out from the Music Collection circulation counter. I hope to see you soon.

— Amy Edmonds

Musical Instruments You Can Borrow

Did you know that the Educational Technology and Resources Collection (formerly Educational Resources Collection) collection lends over 100 musical instruments? The collection includes “realia” — 3-dimensional physical objects of all kinds, including musical instruments of the world. Want to try out a didgeridoo? An Irish harp? Want to strum on a ukulele? There’s even a train whistle!

Finale 2014

Finale 2014 is now available on 6 PCs and 3 Macs near the Music Collection Counter. These computers have enhanced capacities for multi-media applications. Look for the sign that says “Intensive Computing Applications.” Use the Software Locator to find available computers with this invaluable software. MIDI keyboards are available for check-out at the counter.

Jazz Transcriptions

Jazz musicians typically rely only on minimal notation (lead sheets — music with the melody and chords only), embellishing tunes with their own improvised ideas. Students who wish to learn from their idols can practice or study great solos in transcription:

- Guitar
