

Eli Criss (He/Him) is an actor from Indianapolis, IN. He is a decisive and engaging actor intrigued by the complexities of human behavior. He is a highly collaborative performer who thrives on working closely with directors to fully realize their creative vision. He is particularly drawn to projects featuring dynamic action sequences, as well as unique contemporary pieces of art that leaves an audience thinking about what they just saw. When he's not acting he is often found at the gym, listening to new music or playing a boardgame or sport with his friends.

Eli will soon graduate with a BFA in Acting from Ball State University (May 2026). Recent stage credits include Comte De Rochefort in The Three Musketeers and Jeep in Action. On screen, Eli played the role of Alex in the short film In a Nutshell, a Radiance Cinema production that premiered at the Indy Shorts International Film Festival.
